

JOB AND MONEY FOR FORGER WHO PLEADS GUILTY

Grand Jurors Raise a Fund and Give Employment to a Needy Man.

The Grand Jury was waiting to report to Judge Foster in General Sessions this afternoon when Charles Cahan, of No. 33 Sixth street, was arraigned to be sentenced. Cahan, who is twenty-three years old, was arrested on June 11 charged with having obtained by means of a forged order a bolt of silk worth $25 from a Paterson, N. J., silk company, to the officers of which he represented himself as an employee of Stecher & Co., cloakmakers, of No. 30 West Twenty-sixth street.

Cahan pleaded guilty. He said he was nearly penniless and his wife faced a delicate operation which would depend not only on her life, but the life of the Cahan expected. There had been no way that he could think of to raise the money which must be had, and so he had forged the order for the bolt of silk.

A representative of the cloak firm said that Cahan had been an honest and faithful employee and had been laid off only when poor trade made it necessary to reduce the staff. A probation officer and Dr. Stivers of No. 33 East Broadway corroborated Cahan's story.

Judge Foster turned to the Grand Jury when Cahan was arraigned and recited this story to the twenty-three jurors, concluding with the question: "Will anyone of you do anything for this poor man?"

The head of every Grand Jury went to his pocket, and one of them exclaimed: "I'll do more than give him some money. I'll give him a job."

"Then I'll parole him that he may take it," responded the Judge instantly. Then he named the foreman of the Grand Jury, E. R. L. Gould of No. 37 West Fifty-second street, to act as special probation officer for Cahan.

Bishop Burke Celebrates.
ALBANY, July 1.—The Rt. Rev. T. M. A. Burke, Bishop of the Catholic Diocese of Albany, today celebrated the forty-ninth anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood and the nineteenth anniversary of his consecration as the fourth bishop of Albany. Many who assisted in the Bishop's consecration were present at the anniversary celebration and attended the dinner tendered by Bishop Burke to the visiting clergy at the episcopal residence.

RECOVER MOHAWK'S DEAD.

Three of Seven Killed Taken From Exploded Oil Steamer.

Three of the seven bodies of men killed last Friday afternoon in the fire room of the Standard Oil tank steamer Mohawk, anchored off Stapleton, when an explosion in the fuel tanks wrecked the hold and set the steamer afire were recovered today.

Today the wrecking operations had progressed to a point where steamfitters could cut away the mass of broken fittings and machinery which had buried the unfortunate men at the time of the explosion. As fast as the bodies were recovered they were removed to Schaefer's Morgue in Stapleton. All were unrecognizable and identification will be difficult.

Lamar Sued for Grocery Bill.

David Lamar, the financier, who has gained notoriety lately through revelations made at the Congressional investigation into lobbying at the national capitol, was sued in the Supreme Court today by Martin Plants for $1,144.86 for groceries and meals alleged to have been purchased by Lamar for his own household and for a Mrs. Hill, whose identity is not revealed. Plants also asks for judgment against Lamar for several hundred dollars in cash, which Plants alleges he advanced to Mrs. Lamar at the request of her husband.
